Foreword

Dr. Haskel Swain

God gave me the knowledge of the three greatest kingdoms that have ever existed or will ever exist. My mind has been opened to the knowledge of the Kingdom of God and His angels, the Kingdom of Satan and his angels, the existence of demons, spirits of darkness, the Kingdom of Man, and the performances of these kingdoms.

You will learn by reading this book that all generations have been attacked by evil spirits. You will also learn that the supernatural power of God lies within the persons who are fully dedicated to the cause of Christ. May the spirit of Christ be upon you as you read this book

Jesus Christ gave Peter the key and assured him that he had the authority to bind or loose. That spiritual and powerful key rests within the midst of the living church today. Those who are ordained of God for the purpose of meeting the challenge of the Devil are equipped with knowledge and power to perform the work of God by using this key of authority to loose man out of bondage and to bind the powers of the Devil.

Satan has tried to deceive God's people from the beginning, but the Lord through the Holy Ghost is revealing Satan for what he really is, who he is, his purpose, and his defeat. Satan's time is just about completed, and Jesus will speak the word of authority to sap his power from him and deliver him into everlasting hell. But, for this day and hour, God is opening the minds of His people to understand that the key lies within our hands to smite the powers of darkness from East to West, from North to South, within man and about man, above the earth, and in the earth. We, the children of God, have the power because Christ is within us and the name of Jesus is upon our lips. The day is coming when the children of God will make a final stand for the Lord and will not love their own lives unto death, but will love Jesus Christ and the Kingdom of God.

Satan's Kingdom will come to an end and will be driven into the everlasting fire. The Kingdom of Man will cease. Only the Kingdom of God will stand forever.

Chapter Six

MAN'S CHALLENGE AGAINST SATAN

The Kingdom of Heaven is where God, the Father and Creator, exist and inhabits; and the Kingdom of Darkness is in the place of wicked darkness and in a deep secluded atmosphere blanketing the earth.

The great performance of demon powers is beginning to shock this generation. Educators and national leaders are working feverously trying to develop an answer for such disorder among the public, but they cannot find a cure or solution. Demon spirits are not subject to or frightened of wise talking educators, medicine, shock treatments, or prisons. They are evil spirits produced by Satan to motivate the works of darkness and to confuse man who God has created.

(Blank)

Spirits that cannot be seen must be dealt with spiritually by a greater power and authority. Jesus Christ challenged the complete body of darkness (Satan himself, devils, demons, and all their evil works) and came through a conqueror. All devils and demons that ever existed had to bow and give recognition to Jesus Christ as the one and only power to which the evil forces of Satan are subject. (The scriptures state, Greater is He that is within you than he that is in the world. Christ within the. hope of glory. If Christ be in you, the same spirit that raised Jesus from the dead shall also quicken your mortal body.) The population of this generation, that has been attacked by demonic forces, must seek help from those who have received the direct contact with God. They are vessels of the Holy Ghost. They have acquired the knowledge, spirit, power, wisdom, and understanding of the Lord Jesus Christ and have the whole armor of God on and are prepared to deliver people out of bondage.

Gospel for just a profession. They minister to the people by the knowledge of public speaking, but they have never received the call of God in their hearts and have not the spirit of Jesus Christ to direct their lives. Thousands of people have been programmed by the power of Satan to pollute this anointed position of the ministry. Many of these people are highly educated concerning the scriptures, and they are proclaiming to know the will of God but have never received an experience from God for themselves. Therefore, they are teaching thousands by their own knowledge and doctrine causing them to fall into the same pit to put on a form of godliness but having not the spirit of Christ in their lives and souls. The Devil has found a great program to keep precious people from having a direct contact with the Kingdom of God. Many people who hear of demon powers and spirits of the Devil invading a person, believe that the person is someone who has just lost control and is unable to cope with society. They don't realize that all phases of life have been challenged by the powers of the Devil; and in most cases, he has become a part of them.

Chapter One

MAN IS NOT ALONE

This world has stood through many generations of people. Each generation has witnessed the change of man's environment from one type of situation to another and has been seeking wisdom and knowledge of how to achieve greater heights in society. Through king after king and government after government, man has sought after knowledge and wisdom to maintain power and to advance his achievements. Man has advanced from canoes to great sea vessels and from horses to jet liners. Education has been promoted extremely and accepted by the world as one of man's greatest accomplishments. It is a challenge to man to learn, to be intelligent, to have the know-how, and to achieve. Men desire to know how to organize armies and use successful strategy in battle. They build pyramids reaching into the sky, great cities with walls, ships to sail the seas, and they travel through the unlimited boundaries of space. For the world to behold such knowledge and beauty of skill, it intrigues man to know that he is capable of increasing his intelligence, knowledge, and wisdom. Every new invention is followed up with a great study, generation after generation, to improve and expand the invention. Education has been enlarged upon, bringing inventions whose numbers soar into many thousands and millions. Man has achieved wisdom and knowledge to travel in space and outer space. All the great knowledge of the land, sea, and the air that now man possesses exceeds the expectation of most of the living population. The education of man has helped him to cope with all situations and conflicts caused by man. This great achievement of education is a major success for man, but at the time of death, all is gone.

Man has fought against man, kingdom against kingdom, and nation against nation. After the battles and fighting were over, the warring parties usually evolved toward peace and trading activities between the two parties continued. It seems to appear that man has the knowledge to deal with another man in business or war to the extent that the majority of people feel that they are mentally equal with their fellow man.

From the time of the first man, we find that generation after generation has lived and sought after wealth, wisdom, and power. Most all generations have recognized the necessity of maintaining a well balanced life for their families and successors with the knowledge that all humanity has been given the light to live by the mercy of their Creator, Jehovah, God the Father. Each generation of time has also been aware of the fact that God Almighty rules supreme and dominates the heavens.

Man has assumed that God lives in a place called Heaven with a large number of angels at His side and He is completely happy and relaxed with nothing to do but sit on the throne and look out over the universe. They picture Him as a retired, old man sitting in His easy chair just waiting on time to catch up with Him.

You will read further in this book that there is much more going on here on this earth, in space, and outer space than many people have ever been aware. Three great kingdoms are in full operation, not spending one moment idle, with a complete record being kept of every moment that passes by.

God operates His heavens with the utmost extreme measure of wisdom. He is well informed of every move of the Kingdom of Darkness. Satan can be called the Devil and the Devil can be called Satan. But, by definition, they are two different beings working for one Kingdom; for there are many devils, but only one Satan.

advertisement are advertising products in many forms, in most occasions, with an evil motive as an advertising gimmick and most people are not aware of the evil forces which promote such advertising. Only the people who have the direct knowledge of the spirit of God are able to detect and understand the motives behind the working of the power of Satan.

It is easy for the general public to look down on the alcoholic, the dope addict, or the person who has been tormented with some kind of a mental or physical disorder and to place judgment upon them as a person who has become a discredit to society. They do not understand that people under such bondage at one time were some mother's small son or daughter. But, because evil forces have taken full control of their lives, they are now instruments and tools in the hands of the Devil to be tormented and to torment others. Many demons, which are not working on an educated level, thrive in the lives of human beings in such a manner as to drive them insane. Many scream, yell, and run seeking rest; but they have no control of what is within them reeking their lives. They make life miserable for their friends and relatives who care for them.

The demon forces of hell motivate human beings to gather themselves together in groups that they may roam the dark streets and back alleys seeking to devour and destroy. They congregate with a vibration of evil power within them that motivates them towards destruction such as burning buildings, reeking automobiles, and making life miserable for those who try to live with society. They cause fear to penetrate innocent families.

Others attack our religious leaders with the lack of spiritual guidance causing many young people to attend college with a motive in mind to become a minister of the and manner which is almost impossible to detect their presence. Many demons provide for themselves safety by performing in a Christian like manner, which makes them very hard to recognize. Many times they are in the church congregation, and many of them spend years attending church services regularly. Hundreds will invade the area of a church where people gather to worship and make plans to forward the cause of Christ. They will make all preparations possible to inconvenience the work of some church performance. Other times they will cause confusion among the choir members or other leading groups of the congregation. Many other happenings in the audience are performed by demon powers and are not easily detected by Christians who are deeply devoted to God. Many of these demons are so shrewd that they can cause interruptions in the services of worshipping God. They can cause various performances among the youth, which seem to most adults as just a mischievous acts or just coincidences. A performance of any manner that distracts from the divine worship of God absolutely has been planned and ordained by demon forces. Any motion or action of performance of any type that does not divinely edify the Kingdom of God has been promoted by the Devil. Many things happen through our friends and loved ones which we are inclined to believe are accidental or mishaps of some sort. We are not willing to charge the Devil with this cunning manner of distracting us from our holy and divine worship of Jesus Christ.

Many businesses of our cities are so filled with demon forces that they advertise for the Devil, not having the knowledge there of. Many advertising systems of our land are so congested with evil forces that they are restraining from printing or publishing anything pertaining to Jesus Christ as a challenge to evil powers. We are aware of the fact that a kingdom cannot fight against itself and stand. The majority of the world's publishers in literature and

It is for certain that this generation will know about the three Kingdoms, their intentions, power and success; and Man will know that he has never been alone.

Chapter Two

THREE KINGDOMS

A kingdom is a strong organization equipped to maintain its own function within and without. It will be voiced abroad according to the strength of the Kingdom. Every kingdom must have a leader who is strong enough to give command and to receive recognition and honor. Every kingdom must be self-supported with a sufficient army, self-contained language, and a purpose to function. To fail is death; to succeed is life.

It has been determined and recognized by all generations that the Evil One, Satan, rules the powers of darkness and operates his own personal kingdom in opposition to the Kingdom of God. Man has always been aware of the three kingdoms: the Kingdom of God, the Kingdom of Satan, and the Kingdom of Man. Being aware of these three kingdoms has played its part in the life of man. Since man could not physically see neither the Kingdom of God or the Kingdom of Satan, most of his ability and strength has been placed toward developing the Kingdom of Man. Society has spent the past thousands of years from Adam developing life for man on earth and being called upon occasionally to answer to the Kingdom of God. Also, the Kingdom of Satan has performed in a noticeable manner to the people. Man, being so involved in the many plans that have been adopted upon the face of the earth for his advancement, failed to give recognition to the Kingdom of God. Neither has he given much recognition to the Kingdom of Satan. Even with full knowledge and understanding that these kingdoms do exist, man has built his own ego very high and has become proud of his learning and achievements. He has adventured into natural, carnal life so powerfully that he feels that his generation will always remember the handwork of man and the great minds of the explorers.

dedicating their lives to work against the powers of darkness. People who have given their lives to Satan declare to serve and worship him through witchcraft, root working, black magic, and many other forms of evil and darkness. Their lives have been filled with evil powers to challenge the entire world. Never before has there been a battle like there exists at this present time; and this battle will continue in a greater measure until this life comes to an end, which is very soon.

Today, the public is aware of the operation and performance of demon spirits more than ever before. Each month that passes by will be a greater experience for the general public dealing with evil forces of hell. From now until the end-time our knowledge and understanding will increase more rapidly concerning the situation with which we are confronted. Knowledge concerning the mysteries of the Word of God are also being increased, for God is revealing the Bible to His people in a much greater way than ever before. The awareness of the two kingdoms, the Kingdom of God and the Kingdom of Satan, is becoming clearer to the majority of the people today. They will completely understand all that is happening and will be aware of the things which must shortly come to pass.

Spirits of the Devil, which are demon forces, have covered the earth as a blanket. Every home, family, and business will be contacted by demon forces and, by some measure, will be urged to contribute to the plan of Satan. It is clearly understood that all world performances, which are not governed by the spirit of God, are motivated by demons. Therefore, it is easy to understand that devils, which are angels of Satan, come to the public in many different forms. Many devils are educated while others are stupid, and many devils and demons live with people for the purpose of finding for themselves a dwelling place. Others work through our educational system of the world in a systematic performance

Chapter Five

SATAN'S CHALLENGE ON TODAY'S MAN

This generation is aware of the Kingdom of Light and the Kingdom of Darkness. They are also aware of the Kingdom of Man. People are seeking answers for problems of life, and there are thousands who know the answer. This is the last generation, and it will be the wisest generation that has ever existed since the beginning of time.

Satan knows his time is almost over and that the Kingdom of God will conquer him, so he is releasing all strength of evil full speed ahead with all force. The Kingdom of Man is fighting for survival through his own knowledge. Some will share knowledge and wisdom with all humanity concerning the great light to know right from wrong, to understand darkness from light, and to understand evil from righteousness. The message of Jesus Christ is being declared around the world as the sound of a trumpet, and the Devil is using all methods possible to quite the great roaring of the name of Jesus to humanity. The battle is on; and now at last in the final generation, man is fully aware of the great kingdoms and armies which are engaged in a battle like has never been since the beginning.

When Jesus came and talked with the man in the tombs, two thousand or more devils obeyed His command. Devils spoke and said that they knew the apostle Paul by name. Devils can be visible or invisible. Jesus cast seven devils out of Mary Magdalene. They were seen and counted.

Angels of God are visible or invisible. The angel of the Lord came and smote Peter on the side and spoke to him in his own language. He told Peter to get up and buckle on his sandals because they were leaving the jail. The angels of God are standing day and night by the sides of people who are

THE THREE HEBREW CHILDREN

When the king was challenged to throw three Hebrew children into the fiery furnace, he was unaware that the Kingdom of Darkness was challenging the Kingdom of Light. The king could only see and realize a present day situation. The demon powers of Satan schemed, planned and arranged for a situation to occur so that the three Hebrew children would, without a doubt, be cast into the furnace. While the king spent much time in achieving his program, the Kingdom of God was alerted. The angel of God, the spirit of the Most High, had constantly been with Sadrach, Meschach, and Abed-nego, the three Hebrew men, equipping them with the necessary strength and faith in God so that they would maintain their integrity with God failing not and neither being afraid at the time of deliverance into the fiery furnace. The king recognized that the Hebrew children were a part of the Kingdom of God. The king himself was so totally involved with the Kingdom of Man that he had little time to think about good and bad, light and darkness, or any kingdom which he could not see.

The three Hebrews told the king that they would not bow to his image, and that their God would deliver them. The king saw that these men were free of fear and were not careful of how they spoke to him. The king felt that his kingdom was secure and no force could enter and intervene for these men. But, he was slightly shaken by their firm attitude and of their speaking about getting help from an authority higher than the king himself.

The king did not know that the men who wanted to have these three Hebrews destroyed had been overcome by demon forces and were now agents for the Kingdom of Satan. They had given themselves over to demonic forces and to demonic operation receiving a spirit of destruction, thus causing them to be eager to see the Hebrews suffer.

The Hebrew children being put in the furnace and delivered without any harm to them, caused the king to know that the persons who were involved in trying to destroy them were men of an evil kingdom. At this point the people could see these kingdoms in operation: the Kingdom of God, the Kingdom of Satan, and the Kingdom of Man.

As the population of the earth continued to multiply, the great miracle of the fiery furnace was soon forgotten, bringing people back to the same state of believing in man and the wisdom of man.

DAVID AND GOLIATH

When the Philistines challenged Israel, the two armies were prepared for battle. It was not recognized that the Kingdom of Satan desired to destroy the Kingdom of God. When there came up the champion, the Philistine of Gath, Goliath by name, out of the armies of the Philistines to challenge any one soldier of the army of Israel, King Saul, having the knowledge of God, waited for an answer. He knew that not one of his men were able or sufficient for the challenge. When David requested to be allowed to accept the challenge, the Kingdom of God vibrated the spirit and soul of King Saul. It was at this point that Saul realized that three kingdoms existed: the Kingdom of God, the Kingdom of Satan, and the Kingdom of Man. King Saul was a man of wisdom and courage. He was the first king of Israel, and he had served his people well. He understood his position as the king and as a man who had a contact with God. He had great love for his people, the whole house of Israel, and prayed for their safety. He was their king and they loved him. Now, a decision had to be made. Saul knew, if his soldier was defeated, that all his people would be under bondage to the Philistines. King Saul had never before been confronted with

Some demons are known as poverty demons. They attack families with full strength to rob them of their natural resources, to restrain them from obtaining finances, so they will live a very strenuous life, financially. This causes them to carry an almost unbearable burden for many years.

Other demons attack families causing disturbances between the children or between the husband and wife trying to tear the home apart and delighting themselves when the children go astray in confusion. This is a great program which the Devil is working on in this generation. He is destroying the importance and responsibility of love within the family so that they might not see nor understand that the stability of love for each other is an absolute emergency.

Demons of frustration and extreme nervous tension are taking effect with abundance on our generation. Nervous tension is building considerably through our country. When the individual becomes under a nervous strain, in most cases, it causes disorder in the physical body and can develop into many different types of sicknesses. Nervous tension demons cause the individual to be on edge making him unhappy and causing his family and friends to be uncomfortable. Many people are driven to a nervous breakdown. All of this is a plan of Satan to destroy humanity.

There are lying demons, murdering demons, thieving demons, destructive demons, demons of deceit, demons of confusion, demons of madness, demons of temper, and many hundreds of other different types of demons, all programmed by the Kingdom of Satan. These demons are instructed by Satan to carry out the purpose of the Kingdom of Darkness, which is to challenge and maintain a strong battle against the Kingdom of God.

Chapter Four

THE DIFFERENT KINDS OF DEMONS

Many people have become demon possessed, and others are demon oppressed. There is a vast difference between demon possession and demon oppression.

Demon possession occurs when the evil forces of the Devil lives within a human being to direct him in whatsoever manner the evil forces desire. In most cases, the person will surrender to the suggestion and leadership of the evil spirit and will perform in like manner.

Many thousands of people are oppressed by demon spirits, especially those who are trying to work for God and promote their church or religion. The devil will oppress them to discourage their efforts for God. The devil causes them to become disturbed and places them under such a mental, financial, and physical strain that they cannot have complete freedom and victory. All spirits of possession and of oppression can be removed and destroyed from an individual's life through and by the power of Jesus Christ.

Suicide demons are utilizing their powers more in this generation than ever before. A vast percentage of the earth's population has been contemplating suicide not realizing or being able to detect that their minds are being tormented by a suicide demon.

Demons of fear have moved swiftly across the nations causing people to be afraid of their own surroundings. Many cannot rest at night because of fear of something they feel in their room and others will not move about through their own home for fear of the dark. A spirit of fear has gripped the hearts and the minds of these people.

such a decision such as this. There was too much at stake, too much to lose, and too many kingdoms involved. This was too much for the wisdom of man. So, King Saul accepted the knowledge of God and submitted himself unto the will of the spirit of the Almighty. He knew that his kingdom, which was all of Israel, both army and civilians, rested upon the shoulders of a young lad. David was inexperienced in war and had never been in a battle of the Kingdom of Man; but Saul surrendered his kingship unto the Kingdom of God, giving God the ability to use a young lad to challenge the Kingdom of Satan through the Philistines.

When David returned with the head of Goliath, it was easy to see and understand that the Kingdom of God existed in power. This was soon something of the past for the generations coming on, because men continued their interest in achieving height, wisdom, power, and might.

SAMSON AND THE PHILISTINES

Samson, who has been recognized as the mighty man of strength, served his purpose in life working for God and challenging the Devil. Although he was unable to realize the full knowledge of the Kingdom of God and the Kingdom of Satan in their fullness of operation, they played a part in his daily life. The strength of Samson was designated and predestinated for the purpose of avenging Israel against the Philistines. His existence and performance in life was to be a hurt to them. In all oppositions and in every challenge, Samson was an over-comer. He destroyed his enemies as they approached him.

In many different cities, Samson acquired lady friends with whom he spent much time. In all of his affairs with the opposite sex, Samson maintained his covenant with God and was a powerful man in the eyes of all people.

Even though Samson was aware of the two major kingdoms being at war, he did not detect that he was being challenged by an unseen enemy. This enemy consisted of many demons which operated through one of his lady friends, Delilah. Samson had been with Delilah many times and perhaps for several months, but his acquaintance with her had not caused him to forget his purpose in life. He had maintained his strength and belief in God. He could see Delilah. He could see the Philistines. He could see the buildings, the walls, and gates. But, he could not see the demons which had planned to destroy a man that armies themselves could not control. Therefore, they used Sampson's lover to disrupt his sound mentality. In all the performances of the Kingdom of Satan, which are thousands, the confusion of the mind and the tension on the nerves are the most effective. Samson and Delilah had been together and had shared each other's happiness and pleasures for quite some time. The time had come when the forces of hell challenged Delilah in a situation which she was unable to overcome. It wasn't the amount of money involved that attracted Delilah, for Samson could have given a thousand times as much silver that was being offered to her. The demons used this woman to speak through. Reading the Bible carefully you will find that Delilah allowed the demons to use her voice to disturb Samson mentally concerning his power. He had avoided giving his secret away in the past, but now the demon forces are pressing upon this man's mind so powerfully, hour after hour, so that he became angry. Knowing that he was a conqueror and could not be defeated, in a rage of anger, he told Delilah where his power lay. Because of the oppression of the demon spirits upon him mentally, he weakened.

Devils will work for years to devise a way to get a man to lose control of his temper. This is an open door for the Devil to come in.

Demonic Spirits

Instead of evil spirits seeking whom they may devour and hurting man, now man can seek out the evil spirits to destroy them. Jesus gave man deliverance. Let every man take his gift of freedom and become soldiers in this great battle fighting for the cause of Christ. The servants of God must wear the whole armor of God, so he will not be defeated. He will conquer the enemy in every battle.

The Bible says, "She bore upon him sore", meaning his mind became disturbed, vexed, and tormented by the demon powers of Satan who used Delilah to bring about this evil. This mental rage was purposed in order to cause Samson to say with his mouth publicly where his strength and power lay. This led to a great down-fall in the life of Samson.

THE ATTACK AGAINST JOB

Job was a man who lived for God. Many sermons have been preached about his life. He had the knowledge of the Kingdom of God, but seemingly had no understanding of the Kingdom of Satan. Before Job's tragedy, God and Satan communicated and exchanged words concerning this man Job.

Here we have the Kingdom of Light and the Kingdom of Darkness at a conference table discussing the Kingdom of Flesh. The Kingdom of Man contains knowledge of the flesh and the desires of the flesh, but can only see that which the carnal mind can comprehend. The other two kingdoms are spiritual; and they can see beyond the mountains, and they know what the Kingdom of Man is doing at all times.

Devils planned for months to bring about the one-day disaster of Job. One time a month Job's children met for a party in one place. The disaster was planned when the party would be at the oldest son's home. A plan had to be made so that the Sabeans and the Chaldeans would both make their journey on the same day, the day of the party. Both bands of men had to arrive in the land of Job on the same day, at the same time, not knowing the other band was near by. Never had either of these bands of men harmed Job or his belongings at any previous time. Men, unable to know what was happening or why, gave in to suggestive spirits who had been waiting for them. Taking charge of their minds, the evil spirits caused these men to do things they normally would not have done. They were without a reason to kill Job's servants and to take his herds.

Evil spirits impose themselves upon people, especially on those who seem to have a weakness in their nervous system. Demons are evil minded, cruel, hideous, and without mercy. When allowed to maintain company with a person, they are easy to detect. Unhappiness seems to occur, and a bad atmosphere will always appear when the person doesn't get their way. It is important to get rid of these spirits as soon as possible. Someone who is able to deal with evil spirits can help. Many people do not know what is behind disasters and sorrows.

Through all of the afflictions and disturbances of Job, he directed all of his thoughts and energy both good and bad toward God. He made the statement, "Though God slay me, yet will I trust Him," He did not realize that it was the power of Satan which attacked his life.

At the same time, when Job's children were destroyed by the falling of the house, there were many other disasters taking place. Of all the years of Job, it was not recorded that a man ever stole from him or killed anything that belonged to him. He had perfect peace with all men. When Satan made his plans to attack Job, the Sabeans and the Chaldeans both received in their hearts the spirit to steal. Many families were left without a father because they were killed while watching the flocks. Satan, trying to reach Job, caused many families to suffer. He also caused the Sabeans and the Chaldeans to become thieves and murderers. Ten families of Job's household died by the hand of Satan. Thousands of devils and demons, which are servants of Satan, worked and planned for some time to bring about this one day disaster upon Job. Devils motivated every situation to cause sorrow, discomfort, unhappiness, mourning, and death. Many people died and powers. The spirits used the congregation to make an attempt to destroy Jesus Christ. The people themselves had not received the power of heaven to understand the unseen army; and therefore, they submitted themselves to the feeling that came to their minds to destroy Jesus. The complete audience arose and took Him to cast Him down a hill that He might be utterly ripped to pieces and killed, but He escaped out of their midst and disappeared. This was the first real challenge by demon powers against Jesus Christ, the Son of God.

From that moment until this day, the powers of hell have been revealed unto the people. God's anointed servants, who have become disciples, have received His knowledge, spirit, and power. They are able to detect the unseen army of the power of Darkness and the evil spirits of hell produced by Satan. Until the time of Christ, Satan had full control of the earth; and he put his hand against everything and everyone that he desired. No one could determine his thoughts or his next move. Since Christ, we are able to know what Satan's plans are, what he is planning to do next, and how to stop him and his devils. We know when he is lying down and when he is getting up. We know his coming in and his going out. We know his persuasion of deceit and his methods of destruction. We who have Christ in our hearts have become allies for Jesus to fight with and for the Kingdom of God. Therefore, we have become wise soldiers able to use our spiritual radar system to detect the enemy at all times. By this we can fight a good battle and win every fight. "Greater is He that is within you than he that is in the world." The demons, which are invading this generation, are now challenged by the people who contain the great strength of the Almighty God. This is made possible by the spirit of Christ being within the human soul and body. Jesus Christ opened a new door for mankind. Those who sit in darkness now walk in the light. Those who were blind now can see. Those who were crippled now can walk.

When Jesus returned from forty days of fasting and praying, He passed through a village where many were blessed just by the touch of His hand. This was His first performance in the divine spirit of God. An unseen weapon has been given to man to fight an unseen enemy. Seeing the people blessed and made whole, Jesus was made glad and continued on His journey. He chose several people, who He felt could carry on His ministry, to walk by His side.

Very soon thereafter He returned to His home town and attended service in His local church, as He had done for years. The minister handed Him the book to read, as He had done in the past. The scripture says that He received the book from the hand of the minister and found a place to read, as His custom had been; meaning He had done this many times prior to this date. This time He read the scripture, "For God hath anointed me to preach the gospel and set the captive free"; and when He finished the reading, He reached the book back to the minister and was seated. The devil, which had talked with Jesus in the wilderness, had already arrived at the church and had many hundreds of demons present that day to hear the reading of Jesus Christ at His first service after baptism. When Jesus was seated after reading the scripture, the complete audience was speechless and cast their eyes upon Him. Jesus arose, understanding their feelings and thoughts. The anointing of the Heavenly Father in His life provided Him with the knowledge to see the unseen guests which were present at the meeting. Jesus told the congregation what had happened at the time of Naaman's leprosy and the widow who had the small amount of meal in the barrel. He preached to them, and the congregation became disturbed because thousands of demons from the Kingdom of Darkness had invaded them. This same people who had loved Him for many years, now all at once turned against Him. But, the people were unaware of the fact that they were overshadowed by evil forces; so they thought and spoke as they were told by demon never knew what was going on, and they didn't know that God and Satan had the conversation concerning Job. Even Job himself did not know of this conversation.

Thousands of devils work together on a plan to hurt mankind. This means that many devils and spirits of Darkness are performing at the same time.

The Kingdom of Man cannot compare his knowledge with the Kingdom of God nor the Kingdom of Satan. Man's knowledge is limited. It is for certain that the Kingdom of Man is motivated by the Kingdom of Satan. If a man desires to become strong and refuses to be used by evil forces, he must withdraw his citizenship from the Kingdom of Man and become a fully pledged member of the Kingdom of God. In doing so, it is possible to obtain a position with God to attack the Kingdom of Satan with all of God's angels as allies. Those who have been imposed upon by evil spirits can be set free by an agent of God.

Chapter Three

THE KINGDOM OF SATAN CHALLENGED BY JESUS CHRIST

Some people believe that there is one devil with a long tail, two horns, and a pitchfork. Be not ignorant, however, for there are thousands of devils and millions of demons which have existed for many years. From the beginning, the Kingdom of Satan has performed and operated in his cunning manner to bring a cause of destruction to mankind, the creation of God. The battle of Darkness against Light has been in action for thousands of years, but the general public is unaware of this unseen battle. Man today, as men of old, has spent much time trying to achieve a higher goal and giving credit to his own knowledge. He does not recognize the fact that the Kingdom of Satan and the Kingdom of God are both greater than that of Man. Man must be subject to one of the two kingdoms.

Jesus Christ was born into this world, and for thirty years He attended church regularly. Not once during this time was this man, Jesus, challenged by the demon forces of hell. The entire land was covered with demon spirits which had invaded lives of many people. Both young and old had been attacked by this unseen power with which no human being could cope. Some lived among the tombs, some committed suicide, others ran the streets of the cities, but no one could find help for them.

The man who is known as Legion lived among the tombs. He would cut himself with stones to bleed and hurt, trying to gain relief. He would scream, cry, and roar so that no man would pass by that part of the country. They feared this wild man. This was happening at the same time Jesus was attending church with His friends and relatives. He became an honorable man in the congregation of His local church. He was recognized as a very important Bible reader. He would read the scriptures for the minister and then return to His seat and listen to the message. He did this frequently during the ages of sixteen through thirty. While He was a faithful Bible reader, the powers of the devil were invading the lives of men throughout the country. The evil forces of Satan had never been challenged by man, for man was unable to see the Kingdom of Satan or the Kingdom of God.

When Jesus became thirty years of age, He went down to the Jordan River and was baptized by John. After being baptized, He went into the wilderness to pray. There He received the anointing of the spirit of heaven insomuch that He was able to see the unseen. There was an army which had been invading Jerusalem and all the cities about. No man was able to detect or was aware of this great vast army that was slaughtering the people. Now Jesus had received from the Father a spiritual connection and a spiritual power to see the invisible. Therefore, Satan himself made a personal trip to visit Jesus in the wilderness because he realized that a change had come to mankind. There was a man who was able to seek out and find the hidden enemy, so Satan tried to make a peace treaty with Jesus Christ. He tried to compromise in order to come to some mutual agreement with Jesus. However, he found that this man, Christ, would not compromise with the Kingdom of Darkness. Therefore, Satan left Jesus Christ at the place of prayer in the wilderness and returned to his kingdom to have a conference meeting with his advisors to produce a program of how they might accuse Jesus of some wrong doing. As the Son of God proceeded in His daily administration, Satan planned how to destroy Him. Jesus was the one and only person who had ever learned the secret of power and the weapon of the spirit.
